Hi,

It was with great enthusiasm that I found the announcement of the challenge of the position of Front-end Developer in the community Front-endBR in Github for Red Ventures. I was immediately assured that my skills and experience are suitable for the position in this reputable company.

In the company where I have been working since 2015, I started my challenges as a Multimedia Designer in which the focus was creation and animation and interactive objects with HTML5 for Web, about a year later I was promoted to Multimedia Specialist where the main challenge was Web performance in the product , scalability and training of the interface creation tool for Webdesigners, after more than 1 year I was promoted to Multimedia Production Coordinator where I was the leader of a multidisciplinary team of 14 members: Designers, Webdesigners, Diagrammers and Illustrators, where the main challenge was the leadership, production and performance indicators and continuous improvement in our product (Ebooks) for the LMS of the students, both 3 challenges consisted in the direct impact to ~ 1M of students of the Kroton brands all over Brazil,

In the last 4 years I have improved my skills in creating and developing interfaces, web development, UX / UI, Mobile-first and Web product, I have experience with HTML5, CSS3, SASS, Javascript a bit of PHP and SQL too, now I'm starting in @ Angular2 + and ReactJS but I still consider myself a beginner in these market libraries, but I am trying hard and being very active in the communities of both,

I like to be called Mir, I'm from Jundiaí I'm 28 years old, I'm graduated in Graphic Design, and I'm in the 4th year of Computer Engineering, I love sports in general, I love playing football and listening to music (I'm eclectic but I have preference for electronic music and rock) I love to create things and to program mainly for Web, I also did theater and I was already a salesman, as hobby I am cosplay and I make my costumes, was curious? rsrs so look this:
